Betty Hi Betty, who don't do so much this year I hardly know when to begin. I'll Betty, I'll never forget some of our meetings and especially your slumber parties!
 Also, we've had our share of long talks - right? I hope I've helped you with some of your problems as you have me. I sincerely hope your future holds the greatest success for you and your plans turn out in the way you choose.

Best of luck always - you deserve it!
 Love
 Linda KΦΘ

Betty:
 you're a real sweet kid. I'll always remember you at old E.H.S.
 Best of luck in everything you do.
 Leo Dickinson

Oh Betty!
 You are again! I'm sure that's all that's not used to a riot in gym.
 Good luck always,
 Barb Childs

Betty, really a swell girl. I've been loads of fun during our little stays, and we'll be around, I hope we'll all get together and get some more of the summer fun. I'll be of the party. Love,
 Jeff

My love to you from Betty
 Love,
 Betty

Betty,
 you really are a swell gal. I hope we can get together this summer. We sure have had some riots this year. You've been a wonderful friend & have really helped me a lot.
 Be good,
 Love ya,
 Confitter

AT EISENHOWER HIGH SCHOOL

Registration...

The first registration for our new high school took place at Stephen Decatur High. Somehow, through the confusion, all the students were enrolled in their first semester classes. Members of the Future Teachers of America Club served cokes to the teachers working at the registration tables.

Welcoming replaced Homecoming at Eisenhower High School. An assembly opened the activities with the crowning of the first Panther Princess and the presentation of her royal court. The Varsity football team escorted them to the stage. Musical and comical acts provided the other entertainment.

Betty,
 Well, I'm really glad I got to know you better
 this last year. No kidding, I've talked to you many times about many things and I've always respected your advise you're really a very

ATHLETICS

CLASSES

The students at Eisenhower High School this year shared an unusual and rare experience. For the first part of the school year they were a school without a building of their own. Classes were held in Stephen Decatur High School, Johns Hill Junior High, Centennial Junior High, and Washington Grade School buildings.

Even though the school was operating under what could have been very difficult circumstances, the students always had a feeling of unity.

At mid-term they all came together under one roof and for the first time Eisenhower High School was more than a name.

We left the old and entered the new

ADMINISTRATION

Our school system is headed by the Board of Education and Superintendent Lester J. Grant.

The Board of Education represents the citizens of the community — it has the responsibility for providing the best public education possible for all the children of the district. All citizens have a responsibility for the education of the community — the economic and cultural level is directly related to the level of education maintained.

One formal meeting is held each month, but informal ones are often called. Anyone is welcome to attend the board meetings.

Superintendent
LESTER J. GRANT

BOARD OF EDUCATION

SEATED: Rev. David E. Readye, Mr. Theodore Bates, Mr. Otto C. Keil, Mrs. Ida Coppenbarger.

STANDING: Dr. George Flaxman, Mr. Paul Smallwood, Mr. Donald Jones.

Mr. Murvil Barnes, our principal, played a very important part in making Eisenhower High School a fine new school. He has been a master engineer in education this year, starting a high school practically from the beginning — from selecting a new faculty to helping form a closely knit, smooth-running organization.

ADMINISTRATION

RALPH WESTERMAN
First Assistant Principal

WILLIAM ROHRSCHEIB
Second Assistant Principal

MARIE WEBER
Assistant to Principal

Mr. Westerman and Mr. Rohrscheib are the two assistant principals. Miss Weber is the assistant to the principal. Mr. Westerman, among other things, takes care of securing substitute teachers, registering seniors and freshmen, and preparing the class schedule.

Some of Mr. Rohrscheib's main jobs were checking attendance, supervising a detention room, and taking care of discipline problems.

Miss Weber helps coordinate the various school clubs, plan the senior graduation and prom, and work with discipline cases involving girls.

SEATED: Miss Harris, Mrs. Redlich, Mr. G. Davis, Miss Weber, Miss Hedrick.

STANDING: Mr. W. Davis, Mr. Jacobsen, Mr. Antenen.

GUIDANCE SERVICES

Our Guidance Department is made up of eight counselors who are always on hand to help the students to find meaning and direction for their school years and future lives.

Freshmen are assigned to a counselor and remain with that person through all four years of high school. This continuing relationship enables the counselor to know each student—his interests, his plans, his abilities, his needs.

The Guidance Department offers various services to the students and the teachers. These services include the organization and administration of the Freshman group guidance classes, the assembling of materials and information concerning colleges, the individual guidance of students in their choice of courses, the analysis of scholarship information and its distribution to students, the assembling of occupational and job-placement information, the administration and interpretation of our testing program, and the study of school 'drop outs' and graduates.

HOME ECONOMICS

Most girls will benefit by taking some type of Home Economics course, since most girls will need the skills learned there for their future use. The girls gained much useful information from the many field trips that were taken during the two semesters. They also had several guests in to speak to them.

It was a real pleasure to work in the Home Economics Department where they had a wonderful room and new and modern equipment. Many of the underclassmen will go on in Home Economics, and take advantage of the opportunities in that field.

LIBRARY

The Library is one of the most important places in our building. When a student is in doubt about any question — the library holds the answer. When he wants to escape to far-off places through stories — the library holds the answer. When he wants to escape to the land of intrigue and adventure, the library holds the answer. So — for research into the unknown, or for stories for relaxation, the library is the place to go.

New books, new materials, new equipment, all high-lighted our library this year.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Our new Industrial Arts shops are well equipped, and should develop into one of the best in the state. We offered a wide range of six week exploratory courses to the beginning student so that he could acquaint himself in the various fields. With this experience, he should be able to enter the area which interests him the most.

This year we offered woodworking, metalworking, electricity, and drafting. Next year we hope to add the graphic arts of photography, printing, and silk screen work.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Opportunities unlimited! That is the Business World! Success of a person entering this field is limited only by his ability, personality, and imagination. The Business Education Department of Eisenhower High School helps the student meet these challenges by offering complete business training. The Department is well equipped with the types of machines that are used in this area, and on-the-job-training is available through certain classes.

As a freshman, the student begins work in the general course of Basic Business. As a sophomore, he is trained in the typing skills, and as a junior he begins to specialize in such areas as bookkeeping, clerical, stenographic, or distributive education. This specialization is continued in his senior year.

By taking advantage of the opportunities available in this department, the graduate is prepared to begin his career and assume his responsibilities as an adult.

Every man thinks he understands his mother tongue, but precisely because it is his mother tongue he never grasps what a language is unless he has got outside his mother tongue by studying another language.—Robert M. Hutchins

The most commonly cited outcomes of foreign language study are an increased knowledge of peoples of other countries and eras, special interests in foreign peoples and countries, improved use of English, increased vocational opportunity, special interests in foreign literature and culture, and increased contacts with foreign peoples.

The Eisenhower foreign language classes and clubs give their members opportunities to work toward these goals and others, while at the same time experiencing a goodly amount of fun and comradeship.

MATHEMATICS

The courses offered in the Mathematics Department fall into two groups: (1) General math courses which include two years of general math and one semester of economic math, and (2) College preparatory courses which include four semesters of algebra, two semesters of geometry, and one of trigonometry.

Some of the general objectives of the Math Department are as follows:

1. To maintain adequate skills in computation with whole numbers, common fractions, and decimal fractions.

2. To develop the ability to think clearly in situations involving quantitative concepts and relationships.

3. To develop an appreciation and interest in how and why mathematics is used in every day life.

4. To guide the pupils educationally and vocationally through their needs.

Each high school student is required to earn credit for one year of laboratory science for graduation. This credit can be earned in any of several classes. Freshmen and sophomores may take biology or physical science; juniors and seniors may be eligible for chemistry or physics. Semester courses in earth science, air science, physiology, botany, and zoology are offered. This variety enables a student to choose a field of science in line with his interests and ability. He can major in either biological or physical science.

Our athletic program got started on the right foot this year. We are proud of the spirit and enthusiasm that the boys and coaches have shown in all our sports in spite of the handicaps which faced them. Often they had to practice far from school and under unfavorable conditions.

Bessy,

not faculty but who gives a damn! Well, Betty, we really have had a FACULTY year. Remember? We always found something to do! Leave it to Bessy & Computer! And you've helped me so much with Danee. Even by getting him - off! Right?

Betty, you really are a sweet kid. You have a wonderful personality & many many friends due to it. You do get kinda crazy, a little bit of a nut but you're only yourself.

I sure am glad you didn't get hurt in that car accident. I had a feeling something was going to happen but I just didn't know what.

I sure hope you & Norm get along. It will really be neat if you guys started going steady! So sharp! Maybe it's for the best that he did go on a little "vacation" tho - in a couple of ways. Comprehend?

Keep up the good work. Let's get together this summer & really cause some ritz!!! Ok? Be good, Bessy!

ENGLISH

In this world of change, of speed, of massed groups, of heightened tensions, and of gravely conflicting views, each student needs, more than ever, an education of scope and power to enable him to maintain some order and find some security in his "private world."

In particular, he needs an exact and comprehensive education in communication skills. He must have skill in intelligent reading and listening that he may increase his powers of judgment and imagination; through a persisting habit of reading and of listening to radio, television and public addresses, he must keep abreast of the world today and increase his appreciation of the contributions of the past; he must know by contact with the literature of his own country and that of other nations what men have handed down to him to become a part of his culture.

Every student must also not only learn to find personal enjoyment in newspapers, magazines, motion pictures, radio, and television, but also learn to carefully choose and assess values in order that these influences may be stimulating to his sense of moral values.

The English Department at Eisenhower attempts to play its part in meeting these challenges through its varied courses designed to meet the needs of all students—courses ranging from the "Individual English" classes for freshmen and sophomores, through its "English for Everyday Living," "Business English," and regular grammar and literature courses, to those aimed at preparing seniors for college.

FOOTBALL

The first organized team of Eisenhower High School

The varsity played many very exciting games of football in spite of their injuries. Fullback Jim Lyles couldn't play the latter part of the season, and U. L. Newbon didn't play after the Lakeview game due to the flu. Dave Siweck, Chuck Downing, and George Eubanks missed the Danville game, and Dennis Chaney and Bob Harris were also on the injured list.

BASKETBALL

The varsity team had fifteen wins and eleven losses for a record. They lost quite a few games by one to five points, and they always played a good game of ball. Seven out of the tournament ten are returning next year. They are Tom Slaughter, Dan Garver, Bob Mendenhall, Don Walker, Jerry Nixon, Dave Monson, and John Rehfelt.

Mr. Russell, Freshman Coach; Mr. Kinter, Varsity Coach; and Mr. Dittus, Sophomore Coach, look over some individual scores and averages.

BASKETBALL

Eisenhower Panthers beat Warrensburg-Latham Cardinals in the first game of the season.

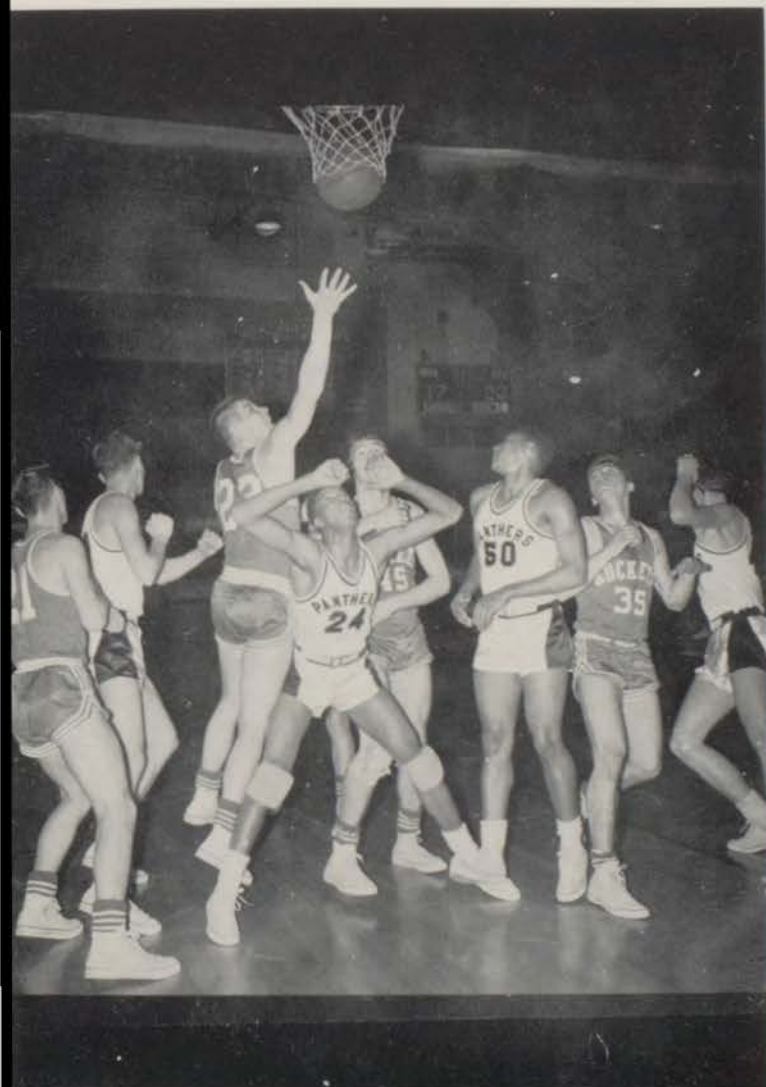

Panthers win in Regional and take second place in Sectional.

Panthers pressed Mount Zion, Warrensburg-Latham, and MacArthur in order to win the Regional Tournament. They beat MacArthur by two points, 41-39. The Panthers then went to the Sectional Tournament and played Trinity of Bloomington, emerging as the victors. They then played the Arcola Riders and were beaten by two points, 50-48.

Eisenhower takes Limestone of Peoria in both tries.

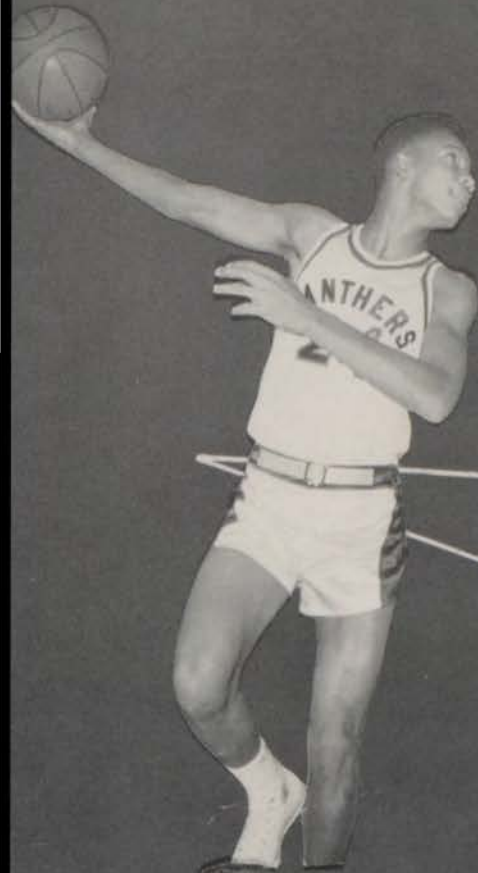

Lyles and Stock fight for the ball in the Decatur-Eisenhower game.

Rehfelt grasps ball in Eisenhower-Vandalia game.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomore team had an excellent season. Four of the eight losses were to Junior and Senior teams.

Awards were given to Howard Hoemann, Floyd Softley, Dale Schawitsch, George Eubanks, Gather Warnsley, Jim Markham, and Richard Portee.

Dan Garver drives the ball.

Chuck Smith putts.

Skip Shinneman

Gary Castor

TENNIS

The tennis team practiced at Mueller and Johns Hill Parks and at Stephen Decatur and Johns Hill gyms. The boys that were on the team were Ted Thimmens, Charles Simpson, Skip Shinneman, Ray Nihiser, Bill Martin, Steve Madsen, Bruce Kinsey, David Gambrel, Dan Foster, Chuck Essoe, Gary Castor, Dave Brobst, and Jim Birt. Not all of the members had decided to go out for tennis at the time that the picture was taken.

BOTTOM: Gary Castor, Chuck Essoe, Skip Shinneman.
TOP: David Gambrel, David Brobst, Bruce Kinsey, and J. D. Russell, Coach.

MANAGERS

Douglas Duncan, Frank Cox

A manager does a number of things, including laying out uniforms before the games, checking equipment, and keeping the equipment clean. He also has the job of keeping the storeroom clean. The manager is the coach's "right-hand man," and the team cannot get along without him.

Dick Carman, Freshman Basketball Manager

Don Chamberlin, Sophomore Basketball manager

George Dickinson, Varsity Basketball Manager

Linda Dunscomb, Bev Hufford, Sandra Haring, Nancy Alverson, Charlotte Weatherholt, and Nancy Sell.

CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleaders were chosen on their tumbling ability, jumps, knowledge of cheers, and personality. Throughout the football and basketball seasons they practiced two to three times a week; they were required to maintain a C average.

Besides cheering, the girls have participated in assemblies, pep assemblies, and the cheerleader clinic. In October, they spent a day in Normal at a Cheerleader Clinic.

These six girls have done an outstanding job of leading the pep group as well as setting an example of good sportsmanship.

The Freshman Class was not organized until the second semester because of being separated in Centennial Junior High, Johns Hill Junior High, Stephen Decatur High, and Washington Grade School. Because the class was not united at one location, they were unable to plan many activities. They did manage one, however — and that was a talent show. Many of the Freshmen participated in the various musical groups, sports, and clubs.

The Junior Class is one of the busiest classes at Eisenhower High School. They have worked under very able officers. They were the first, in the new building, to choose their class rings. The first Intra-City Prom has taken much of the Junior's time. Eisenhower's own Bill McQueen was elected general chairman of the prom. The Junior Class has certainly showed leadership qualities this year and has the makings for superior Seniors next year.

George Stern, Vice President; Bev Kearney, Secretary; Tom Brabender, Sergeant-at-Arms; Bob Ames, Sergeant-at-Arms; Judy Williams, Treasurer; Tim Kirkby, President.

To be the first graduating class from Eisenhower High School is a great honor. In spite of our last year being interrupted by moving, it has been an interesting year. The Senior class has contributed its share of leaders to the new school. The editors of the yearbook and newspaper, many of the football, basketball, golf, tennis, track, and baseball players, as well as several club officers and cheerleaders have been members of the Senior class. It has been fun getting everything organized. At the time of publication, Virginia Harker is, academically speaking, leading the Senior class. Sue Colman is .002 of a point below Virginia. Many Seniors have made application to colleges and universities in this vicinity, and some are receiving scholarships for part of their tuition. The 1958 Seniors would like to be remembered as the best, as well as the first, Eisenhower High School graduating class.

Well, Betty, this is only a page but I could write a book about all the nice and neat things we've done and all! It's kind of hard to write down though. Youth groupings in general has been a real let-down. I'm awfully glad that we've with me when I went out for personal reading. It made me feel a lot better. Right now I'm just sitting on you... that's just so you'll know what's going on and where I am. I won't say it.
