BOSSES AND PASSES

MR. LYLE K. MUSICK
Principal, Douglas MacArthur High School

Effective administration played a very important part in our education. With about 1550 students and 80 teachers here at Mac, good leadership was provided by Mr. Lyle K. Musick, principal, and Mr. C. E. Taylor, assistant principal. Mr. Phillip Tinch, and Mrs. Ruth Pigott also helped them in their tremendous job of running the school. As students, we usually saw these people at work as they issued detention slips, broke in with special announcements such as "This is a bomb scare. Please file out in an orderly manner," or guarded the lunch line. But their work extended far beyond these extra duties, and they helped the school run smoothly.

EPICS AND ESSAYS

The English Department taught us to communicate clearly and correctly and exposed us to some of the most effective classical communications of man. We wrote many kinds of interesting exercises in grammar, speech, writing, and memorization. Remember copying definitions verbatim from the dictionary and finding them corrected the next day? We were also exposed to a sampling of the revered world, American, and English literature. Remember “. . . bells, bells, bells . . .,” “Friends, Romans, countrymen . . .,” “. . . let me count the ways . . .,” “. . . out, out . . . spot . . .,” until we were so confused we were even forced to think.

Besides the English courses themselves, the English Department encompasses speech, survey of literature, drama, and accelerated English. Contest participation is the Herald and Review Short Story Contest.

MAPS AND MORES

Since three years of social studies is required for high school graduation, we're well acquainted with the fact that freshmen take economic geography, sophomores take world history, and juniors take American history. Seniors usually take social problems and government problems.

When we entered our first high school social studies class, we were confronted with a challenge: no longer were we required to memorize the preamble to the Constitution, make lumpy maps of every imaginable country, and read our Weekly Reader faithfully. We now had the Junior Review, Weekly News Review, American Observer, and Senior Scholastic to read. If some of us had been so fortunate to have an American History teacher who required a term paper, we were constantly seen at our second home — the Decatur Public Library. Tests were made exceedingly difficult by the addition of a new type of question — the essay.

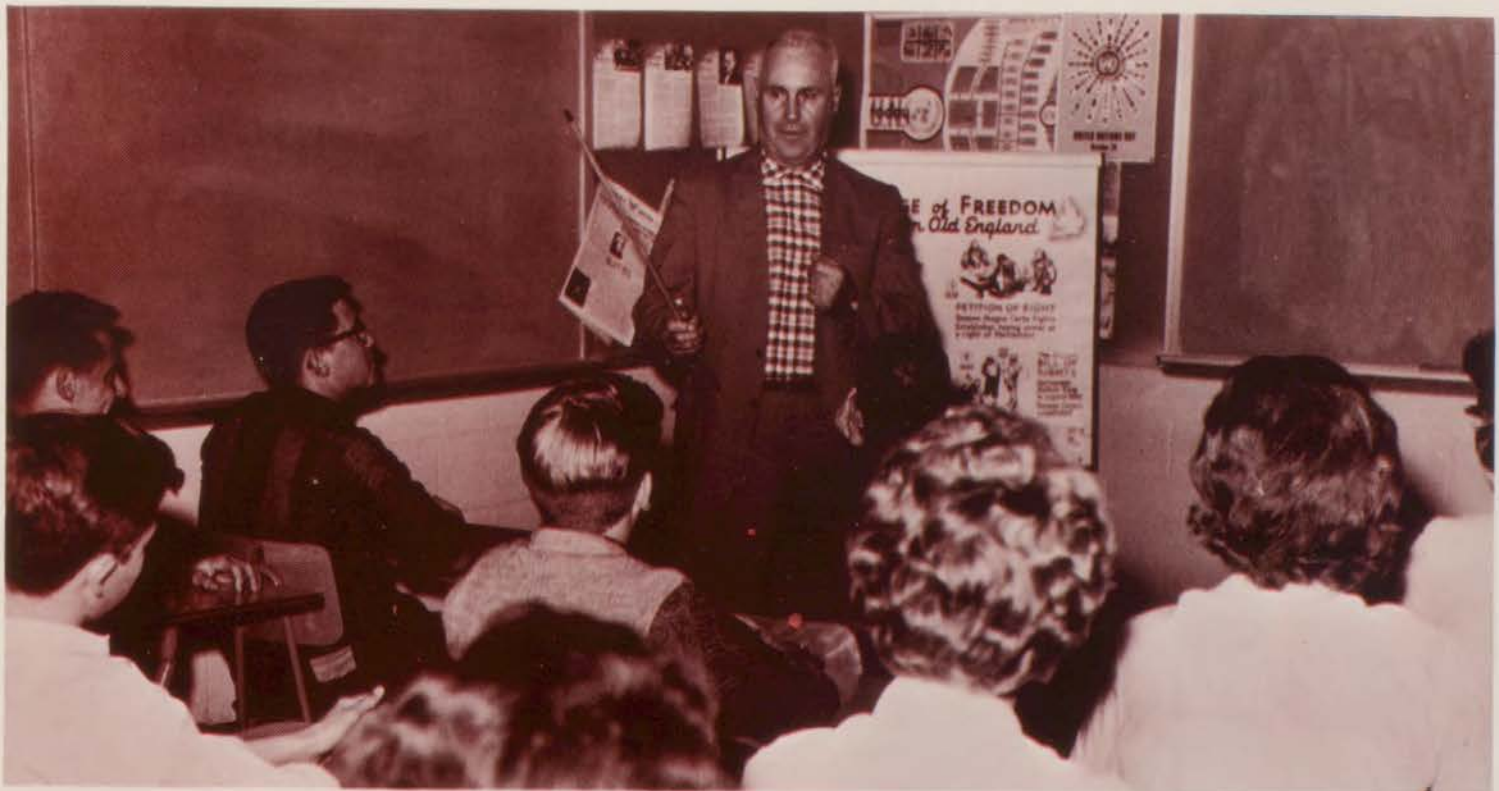

In social problems, we took a field trip to visit the mental institutions of Illinois. This was to further our knowledge of the mentally retarded and the mentally ill.

In our scientific world, it is impossible to live a day without employing some form of math or observing some scientific wonder. Last year we saw amazing discoveries and rapid advancements in many scientific fields and more and more jobs requiring a math and science background. Our math and science departments prepare students for living and working in this scientific age. The Science Department offers many courses including biology, physical science, chemistry, physics, and physiology. The Math Department keeps up to the minute in modern math concepts. The Department contains many subjects, such as algebra, advanced algebra, plane and solid geometry, and trigonometry.

FUN AND GAMES

Looking back through the years, we realize that our activities depended on the temperature. In the fall, since the weather was warm (above freezing) we went outside for football and field hockey. In both these games, there always seemed to be a concentration of boys and girls near the area dividing the boys' side from the girls' side, and very few anyplace else. We also noticed that the boys got to go back indoors earlier, probably because it took them longer to get prettied up. At the end of October we moved into the gym and on to the winter sports program. Twice this year we looked forward (?) to the National Physical Fitness tests. We could always tell when a gym class took these tests because for a week afterwards the students went limping around the halls with sore muscles.

CARBONS AND COPY

Because of the economic nature of the world today, business decisions are common practices for everyone. We at MacArthur received excellent training for the future in this area through the wide variety of courses offered by the business department. Most of us remember trying to reach a goal of 40 words per minute in elementary typing, but many other courses were offered in the business department: bookkeeping, shorthand, office practice, business law, salesmanship, and many others.

Office Occupations and Distributive Education are programs of training offered in junior and senior years, designed to prepare students for job efficiency in a variety of occupations.

SCISSORS AND SAWS

At MacArthur we are offered a variety of courses in the practical and industrial arts. These courses were designed to develop practical skills for everyday living. Boys taking shop gained a solid technical background for jobs or additional training. They were offered courses in woodworking, mechanical drawing, metal works, graphic arts, and more. Girls taking home ec. learned some of the skills of keeping house. They got a chance to participate in discussions on marriage and family life.

LANGUAGES, FOUR

All foreign languages present a great deal about the cultural background of other people and help students gain a better understanding of their fellowmen. The study of Latin provides an opportunity to prepare students for better comprehension of their own language. This year, for the first time, students of MacArthur were offered a third year of French, Latin, and Spanish. This proved very successful. In Spanish, the students have been experimenting with a language laboratory, as the bottom picture shows.

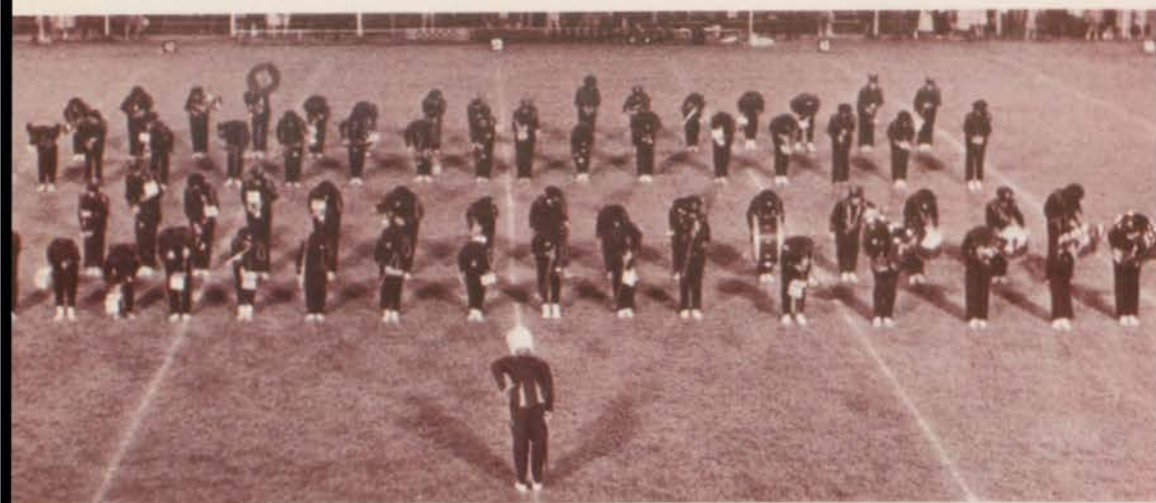

WALTER KIRBY — French and German, German Club Advisor, Senior Class Advisor.

MRS. DOROTHY ADAMS — Latin and English, House and Grounds Advisor, Sophomore Class Advisor . . . MISS D. MAY LARIMORE — French, Head of Department, French Club Advisor, N.H.S. Advisor, Sophomore Class Advisor.

Through the art program, a student has an opportunity to become more aware of the world which surrounds him. He studies fundamentals of art, drawing, painting, commercial art and poster making. He learns through unique methods which gradually draw him into the entire program in which he might be using any one of the basic media taught — pencil, watercolors, pastels, brush, pen and ink, oil paints, clay and sculpture cements. Creativity of another type is encouraged by the Music Department. Music is said to exist to serve and enrich human values, and to glorify human life. To provide opportunities to achieve these goals, one wing of our school is devoted to the Music Department. Here students may find means for self-expression through participation in special groups and bands.

The library preserves our heritage in books. It maintains a pamphlet file which includes free and inexpensive material on all subjects. There is also a career file, containing valuable up-to-date information. All sophomores are required to take driver education, but anyone may take driver training. This course is taught by two very able teachers who instruct students in the correct way to drive. Insurance companies have enough confidence in the driving program to allow a ten per cent discount to those students who have successfully completed the course. MacArthur is also very fortunate to have several special education students with us each year.

Mrs. Helen Ditty, library Secretary, shows proficiency at her work.

Mrs. Sylvia Stroup helps a student in the special education classroom.

The Spirit of STUDENT LIFE

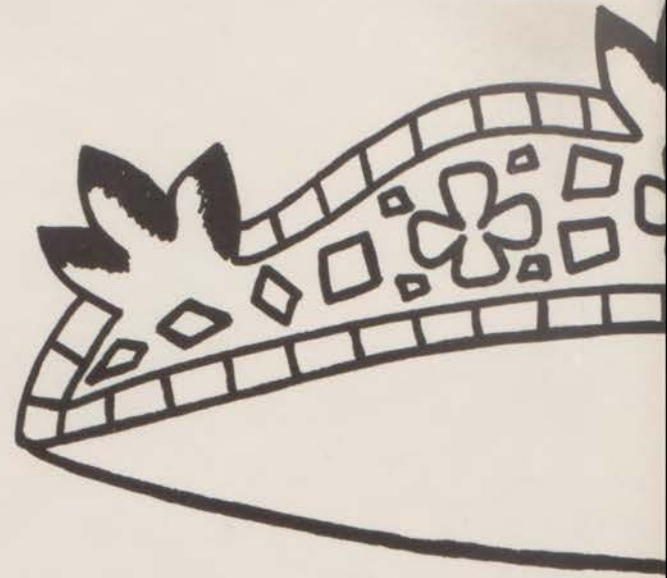

What do you think of when you hear someone mention MacArthur — a basketball game, a student council meeting, your school friends, or perhaps a hit tune in the student lounge? Maybe to you MacArthur is something you can't quite put into words — a spirit. This spirit is displayed through our various activities. You remember not only the school itself but also the many things you did during your time spent there. We, the editors of the 1962 Cadet, feel that activities are as much a part of MacArthur as are its students. Therefore, we are presenting this section of the yearbook first.

Perhaps the biggest of all our school year activities is Homecoming. Reigning over this event is our Generals' Sweetheart, Pam Dye, to whom we dedicate this section of the yearbook . . .

Our school spirit is clearly seen in the traditional splendor and excitement of homecoming. Our 1961 homecoming festivities began with the annual assembly. The climax of the afternoon was the crowning of our Generals' Sweetheart, Miss Pam Dye, and the presentation of her court. The acts were clever and well-planned, carrying out the theme of "Spirit."

Many organizations got into the spirit and decorated floats or cars for the parade. Much inspiration, a multitude of hard workers, miles of chicken wire, and mountains of paper napkins combined to make each float unique.

Our smashing 40—0 victory over Lanphier High School added to the success of the evening and made up for the dismal weather.

The highlight of homecoming weekend was the annual homecoming dance. Our Generals' Sweetheart and her court ended their formal reign in the "Blue and Silver Waving" atmosphere.

As this year's homecoming came to an end, all that remained was a wilted mum, a battered game program, a warm glow of memories and, of course, our immortal MacArthur Spirit.

"SENIOR" VARSITY

OUR TRIBUTE

Athletic Director
J. Harold Henry

Coach Henry has had a wide experience in the field of athletics. He graduated from Decatur High School in 1917 where he played football. Mr. Henry taught school from 1917-1918 when he entered the Marine Corps. After one year in the service Coach Henry entered Millikin where he played football, basketball, and baseball. After graduation his experience included a principalship, coaching, and teaching. He finally went to Roosevelt Junior School where he in September 1928 he succeeded Coach Gay Kintner who had gone to Decatur High School. Upon the building of MacArthur Coach Henry became its first athletic director. It should be observed that he has also had much experience with the recreation department serving with this group from 1926—1956. The last six years with this group he was director of baseball.

Coach Henry gained a wide reputation officiating, for 30 years, in football, basketball, and baseball games.

The City of Decatur and certainly MacArthur owes a great deal to Mr. Henry for his very fine contributions to the athletic field. He has helped to build the MacArthur Athletic Department to one of great excellence. Coach Henry has constantly emphasized sportsmanship, the encouragement of participation in athletic activities, the ability of students to cooperate and work together, physical fitness, and at the same time to recognize the importance of physical activity as recreation. Certainly the athletic department under Coach Henry has done a great deal in building up a fine spirit at MacArthur. We are very definitely going to miss his kindly influence.

Coach Bob Matheson's football team had one of its best years. This MacArthur team had an outstanding record of 8-1. This record tied the best in Decatur history. Next year's team should be just as good. MacArthur's best efforts came against Jacksonville and Eisenhower. Mac-

Arthur upset one of Illinois' football powers, Jacksonville 33-13. MacArthur's finest hour came as it brought Eisenhower's supremacy over the Decatur high schools to an end 23-14.

Coach Matheson should be congratulated for his excellent job.

EDITORS OF THE 1962

The Cadet editors have worked long, and hard to produce a book of distinctive design and character. The 1962 Cadet has a modern theme and stresses the new spirit which was present at "Mac" this year. We feel that the MacArthur spirit is something to be proud of so we have attempted to make this an important part of this year's book.

Cadet Advisor: Mr. Robert Lamar

MAC ARTHUR CADET

The Cadet editors decided to again retain the 9 by 12 book. It should be observed that this size yearbook is the trend in many of the larger high schools and of course it is found in many colleges. The traditional order is changed in keeping with this modern trend to provide greater variation.

The MacArthur Orchestra, directed by Mr. Werner, has appeared on a variety of programs only to gain the applause and the acceptance of their audiences. Orchestra members deserve special commendation for their fine work.

"Great Themes" was the basic idea for the fall concert. The spring "Pop" Concert was a very informal affair presenting popular music. Of course, the high light of the year was the annual trip to Chicago.

A black and white photograph of a school building. The building has a long, curved facade with a row of windows on the upper level and a row of windows with blinds on the lower level. To the left of the main building is a dark, rectangular structure with a grid pattern near the top and two small square windows near the bottom. The foreground is a grassy area with a low hedge. The sky is clear and light.
