

TERESIAN

The cover features a light blue background with a pattern of stylized red leaves. The leaves are outlined in white and arranged in a dense, overlapping cluster at the bottom of the page. A white horizontal banner is positioned across the middle of the leaf cluster, containing the word "SPIRIT" in red, bold, uppercase letters. A small, handwritten signature "FS" is visible on the right side of the leaf pattern.

Spirit spreads like wildfire,
as we at St. Teresa know.
In our work, our play, and in our prayer
we try to make it show.

Although we're continually progressing
there's always room to improve.
So on the pages of this book
you'll see what makes the spirit move.

FRESHMEN

These are the fire-starters, spirit-sparkers, young and alive and freshly vibrant. Starting off a little scared and quite unsure, the fire flickers, wavers, but then shoots up strong and high. They soon come round, catch the flame and are all enkindled. Think back to initiation day, frosh basketball, cheerleading, world history . . . and think of them--making history right here, enthusiastic and enspirited--Freshmen! Spirit-starters!

SOPHOMORES

JUNIORS

The flame is steady, burning bright and hot. There's no forgetting the spirit-sharers--they begin to blend maturity with spirit and come out with fire-tried courage, love, loyalty. The senior prom witnesses to spirit grown to a roaring blaze. In fire-crackle and spirit-cry, the juniors are spirit-sharers, looking more forward now, than back--Juniors.

SENIORS

Senior-spirit. Unshakeable. Marked by dedication and full-blown fires of concern, devotion and caring. Fire at its zenith--more light than heat, now. Ring day . . . Homecoming . . . Decisions . . . Football . . . Planning . . . Responsibility . . . Final steps . . . Graduation . . . Illumination! This fire is going on-spreading out from here to the whole world--uncontainable but quite controlled. This blaze isn't temporary: it's eternal. It's Senior-spirit.

FACULTY

The faculty of St. Teresa High School continued its excellent guidance and formation of the students. Sister Marie Therese, Superior; Sister Catherine, Principal; and Mrs. Renner, Secretary, in much behind-the-scenes-action, kept the school running efficiently and provided and planned for the best possible opportunities for the students. St. Teresa students are fortunate to reap the benefits of the unselfish giving of the faculty.

Sister Catherine, Principal.

Sister Marie Therese, Superior. This year Sister joined the faculty and taught classes in Algebra.

RING DAY

Homecoming 1970 was a very special event for the Senior Class of 1971. At Mass, which was the beginning of the weekend activities, they received their class rings. For all, it was the start of many happenings which would later become pleasant memories. But for the seniors, it was also a time to remember the joys and sorrows of three years together as a class.

Karen and Jerry recall our fondest hopes and dreams.

The Seniors get their rings as the underclassmen look on solemnly.

HOMECOMING

BONFIRE SPIRIT

As the flames of the bonfire leaped, so did the Homecoming spirit among the student body. And it continued to climb during the parade downtown and the showing of the floats. The football game also added to the rising feeling when the Bulldogs tied with Warrensburg-Latham. The final culmination of the weekend was the crowning of Queen Sue Bennyhoff at the dance in "Candyland".

Kathy Lowe and Mary Kay Bollero jump for joy.

"Give me a T", and we all yell!

Homecoming Court is Mary Wrigley, Maria Barr, Pam Smith, Queen Sue Bennyhoff, and Kathy Lowe as Bill McNamara has just announced.

Coach and Jerry talk things over.

Bulldogs on their way to a touchdown.

Halftime-ready to go again.

Booster Club President, Mr. May, crowns and congratulates our queen, Sue Bennyhoff.

Dick Kramer on a long gainer.

TOUCHDOWN!!

Phil Jones, All-City Defensive Secondary Back.

Since it was the 70-71 season, the Bulldogs decided to make seven the magical number and establish a new school record of seven wins, one loss, and one tie.

They started off with a 12-6 victory over Central Catholic; and by a 14-13 upset over the formidable Normal Ironmen, the Bulldogs' appetite was whetted for success. After smashes of 30-12 over Pontiac and 30-6 over Lakeview, things were pretty well in hand. Then came the most dramatic climax in a long time on the St. Teresa field. Not about to tarnish their undefeated record, the Bulldogs played long and hard against Big Mac. There were some tense moments but never any doubt. The Bulldogs had demoted the Generals 20-18, and as the gun sounded, the bleachers suddenly gushed forth with deliriously happy fans who rewarded their Bulldogs for a job done in style. Still riding high over the MacArthur victory, the Bulldogs had to settle for a 12-12 tie with highly-touted Warrensburg. But that didn't dampen their Homecoming spirits. The Bulldogs dropped a 19-8 loss to U. High, but bounced back to best the Mt. Zion Braves 22-14.

That set the stage for the most scathingly brilliant performance seen in Bulldog history. Number twelve Jerry Unser had the suave coolness of Broadway Joe that cold night in Clinton as he completed eight touchdown passes. Those passes not only blasted the Maroons way out into the corn fields 58-0, but were rated the "Greatest Sports Moment of the Year" and earned Jerry the "City Player of the Year".

As the 70-71 season ended, there were both tears and sighs of relief. The 7-1-1 record was the result of one of those rare coach-team inseparabilities. Dick Munn pulled from his boys that intangible spirit of unity and drive; "Coach of the Year" seems a small token for such a feat. But Coach Munn knows he has a special place in the heart of every Bulldog. And while the new record was an entire team effort, the class of 1971 will always say with pride, "It was our guys that set the new record: 7-1-1."

TERESIAN

Sometimes an editor feels she'll never get done. At other times she feels she has nothing to do (her staff is working). Sometimes I felt I had taken on an impossible job.

I have found that this job was not impossible but it included some pretty rough work. Nights after school with a raging editor was no fun for the staff and I'm sure no one enjoyed my blasts over the P.A. to drum up some sales.

I know that I couldn't have made it without our sponsor, Sr. Sue Anne, and our ANCHOR man, Mr. Haddock. My co-editors have helped and pushed, and finally the book was finished.

I've asked myself "Was it worth it?" and all I can answer is "Yes, it was worth it!"

SPIRIT BULLDOGS!

Dan Smith tries to sell Doug Kinnaird to the highest bidder.

Mission Day '71 opened with a guitar Mass at St. Thomas. "To Be Alive" in the fullest Christian sense of the word was the theme of the day. Colorful banners made by the Freshmen stressed reaching out and helping your brother as they were carried up the aisle and adorned the altar. Mission King and Queen, Freshmen Joe Vigneri and Barb Brinkoetter ruled the day's activities. Class booths were held outside this year, and the outdoor atmosphere was conducive to generous giving. Jail, Auction, and Bake Sale, annual favorites, again flourished. Judging from the sizable check presented to Speaker-of-the-day, Sister Sally Ann, for her missionary work in Alaska, Mission Day was a huge success.

AFS

Our foreign student this year was Gerardo Yemil Nazar--a suave Chilean who soon had a special place in the hearts of his American classmates. Gerardo came to us through the United States Catholic Conference and lived with the O. L. Gann family.

We'll always remember that winking eye and honest sincerity, part of that indescribable South American charm that brought us a closer understanding of a different culture. Jerry!

PROM

On a beautiful Saturday, May 15, the gym of St. Teresa was transformed into a world of the Orient. The Junior Class worked long and hard to create "Sayonara", Prom 1971. The couples in gorgeous attire filtered through the doors and began a long and beautiful night filled with music, dance and fun.

Couples are caught in the enchantment of the Orient.

Handsome gentlemen and pretty ladies enjoy the music by the "Marksmen".

Beautiful murals add color and atmosphere.

The Buddha looks out upon Mary Forbes, Bob Terneus, Jerry Unser and Maria Barr.

AWARDS DAY

Kathy Lowe receives the St. Teresa Award from Sr. Catherine.

Sister Catherine speaks to all students about the Seniors.

Jerry Unser receives the Good Citizenship Award.

Coach Munn presents Phil Jones with the Most Valuable track and basketball awards and also the Fr. Masterson Memorial Award.

Mr. Lowe presents Mandy Tatman with the Royal Arcanum Award.

COMMENCEMENT

What thoughts pass through a Senior's mind as he marches slowly down the aisle on the solemn night of graduation? He remembers when he dribbled the basketball down the court to the cheers of his classmates at a much faster pace than his present processional gait. He goes back to that last walk down Senior hall, trying to clean out his locker, wondering how he could have accumulated so much junk in only nine months. As he looks around at his friends, he looks toward the future--separation, a new life--where will all his friends go? College, work, Vietnam? But, as he wonders, he finds a partial answer: he and his friends must continually strive to grow, and he sees the huge poster before him, "I get by with a little help from my friends." For in the words of valedictorian Frances Sperry, "the greatest tragedy is the person who has reached a plateau of satisfaction and has stopped growing."

Father Peradotto leads the graduates in songs that represent their feelings of the years.

GRADUATION

Valedictorian Frances Sperry tells the graduates to grow.

Sandy Burger and Craig Harding receive their diplomas from Father Treacy and Father Peradotto.

Patrick O'Neill, Salutatorian, gives the opening speech.

Father Ted gave a wonderful Graduation address.

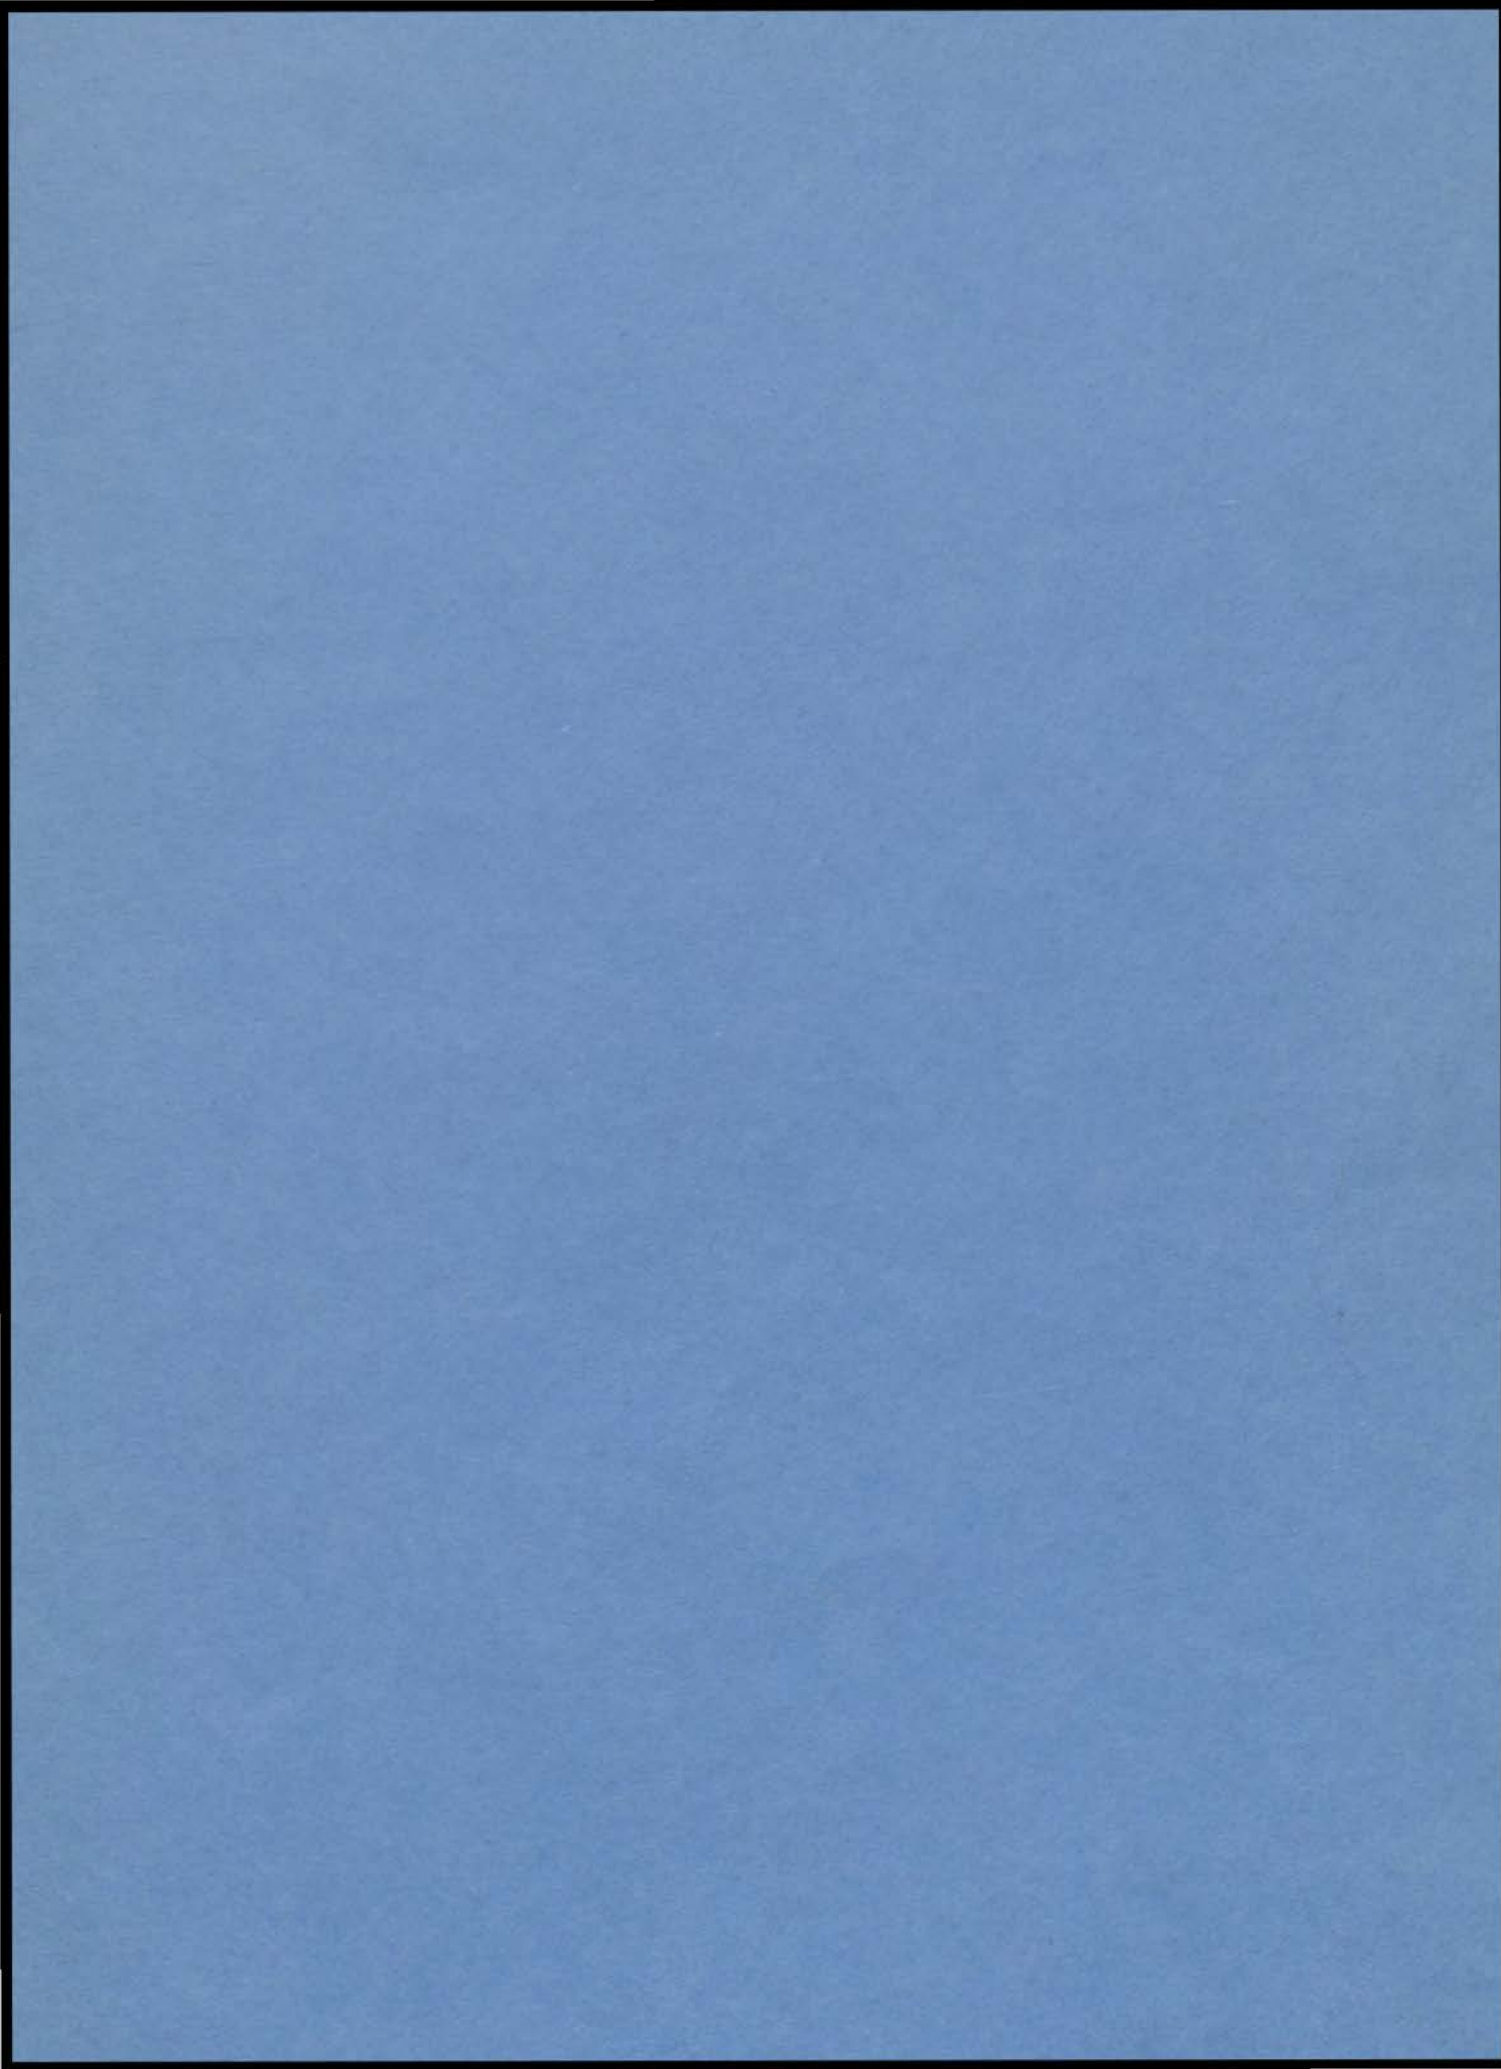

Father Weerts acted as Master of Ceremonies.

Freedom for a summer
to grow a little on our own.
A class comes in; A class goes out but a class is never alone.

A time to look back; A time to look forward
Or to say "I love you, friend."
But I know the spirit won't stop moving--
This is not the end.
