Wake up it's another day another year new unused full of
?
Life Death
Love Sorrow
Wow how profound, more likely full of school — whoops teacher strike 15 free days ... homework games weekends sleeping late eating everything drinking ... cokes writing graffiti riding bikes, parents, teachers, cycles

Being with friends laughing talking slouching working leaping loving WLS and bumming around but waaaiitt aminute

Isn't there more?
To what?
To life.
Wake up look around really see what's in the world — lay in the grass gaze at the sky: gray, blue or cloudy smell the air fresh, biting, warm, sweet watch the people:
young, old happy, sad — but be aware alive awake to life ...

Life —
it's gone so fast . . .
like snow on a sunny day melting running down the street
even as we watch . . .
wake up

Wake up open a door a book an eye a mind Be free to

"Douglas MacArthur High School. May I help you? . . . Yes, we'll put him on the absence bulletin . . . You're welcome." Another day has started, and, for the people in the office, it will be a busy one. Mr. Musick, the principal, is the head of the school and is responsible for all activities concerned with MacArthur. The assistant principal, Mr. Oettel, aids in these duties and, along with Mrs. Acks and Mr. Foster, takes care of all disciplinary matters that arise. The secretaries in the office are responsible for every one of MacArthur's students during their stay here. Is it any wonder they are always in such a hurry?

Who, What When, Where How and Why?

Ever wonder how all the desks are miraculously back in straight, even rows every Monday morning after 6th hour Friday?

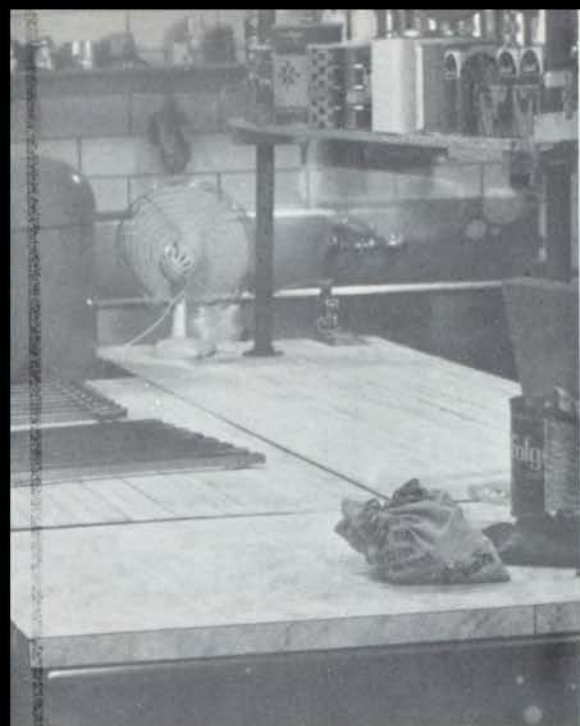

Or who locks and unlocks the doors each morning and evening?

Or where those wedges of pies and plates of spaghetti and slices of bread and cartons of milk come from? (It's obvious where they end up.)

Or what happens to those plates after they are emptied and washed?

The Good Fairy twinkles them away to her magic kitchen in the sky — after she's waved her wand and all the desks have leapt into place.

Interpreted this means there are approximately nineteen women and ten men who comprise MacArthur's "Good Fairy". They are: Reah Austin, Rosemary Bednar, Virginia Brooks, Daisy Brackett, Betty Brown, Lois Clancy, Lola Chamberlain, Della Connor, Patricia Grider, Clara Huffman, Mattie Hunter, Joanne Minks, Carolyn Neeley, Phyllis O'Loughlin, Elinore Riley, Dorothy Ray, Arletta Schri-shuhn, Madge Scroggins, Frances Wood, Mabel Watson, Harry Parton, William Adams, Russell Burchaum, James Denny, William Headlee, Hugh Kelly, William Miller, Bill Nussell, Gerald Stephens.

Business Education: Financial Knowledge

There are many times during the day when the world of business stares each of us in the face. A basic knowledge of how a business operates is essential for use later in life so we all don't stumble with our finances or other propositions.

The Business Department offers many classes which are useful to its students now and in the future. Typing and shorthand or notehand are useful classes for the students as they can quickly take notes and type them correctly in the desired form. General skills in bookkeeping can be used in many jobs in the future as a bookkeeper for a large company or a small store. The data processing unit stresses the use of a keypunch and the various uses of the cards, such as making our grades.

Guidance

Many of us do not realize the help those in the Guidance Office can give us.

Helping freshmen and sophomores select their courses for the coming years can be most beneficial for both college and business bound students.

For juniors and seniors, the counselors provide applications for the many college tests which are available and give information on various colleges and business opportunities.

The Guidance Department works in cooperation with faculty, students and parents. If there are problems at home or with a teacher, the counselors try to help.

The Guidance Department also offers exploratory teaching and vocational training which can aid students in choosing their jobs for the future.

Special Education: Helping Others

4.

5.

A feeling of helping others help themselves is one of the greatest satisfactions in the Special Education Cooperative Work-Study program.

Students who are old enough to work are placed in a work station for a half day and attend classes for the remainder of the day.

Activities include Teen Club, luncheons and a CWT banquet, and special projects in wood-working, video taping and home economics which are student centered.

This program prepares the student for a well-rounded, contributing role in the community in which he lives.

Home Economics: Better Homes Tomorrow

The Home Economics Department is structured so that a girl may make ready for the many responsibilities of life. Many times the Home Ec students look to tomorrow as they plan their homes today.

Clothing teaches how to buy material wisely, how to cut and sew it correctly, and how to choose a flattering pattern.

Homemaking has courses on food preparation, nutrition, and being a good hostess.

Family living is what the title says — learning to live as a family.

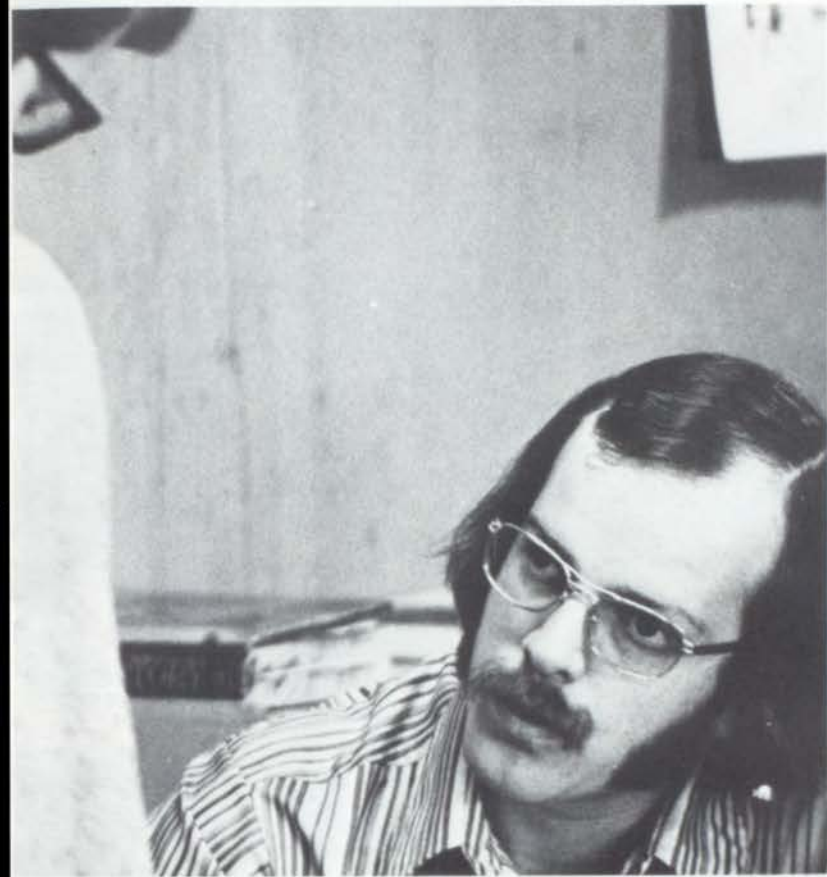

Again this year the Home Ec department held three mock wedding receptions. Students enjoy this very much and they learn how to budget money and run a wedding.

Even if sometimes they do not realize it, these classes give them the most practical knowledge they can have for running a home of their own.

Industrial Arts: Man And Machine

The Industrial Arts Department gives students a chance to express themselves fully, using both the body and the mind. These courses stress the man over the machine, for the man must be in control of the inhuman machine. Students try their hands at woodworking, printing, machinery, and automotive technology. They are also given the chance to work at the Vocational Center for one-half day to pursue their future jobs in detail.

Man over machine — not machine over man. Technical experience at making machines run is the purpose of Industrial Arts. The complete man functioning to make a machine function completely. Training for now, and definitely for the future.

Starting with a simple slide under the microscope and evolving to the complicated chain of the DNA molecule, science is Man's attempt at finding answers to all of the questions that he has asked through the ages. So much to discover about the workings of the earth and the life on it, and yet so much still unknown — so much to discover about Man's world and the worlds beyond.

The Fine Arts: Music And Art

... 3 ... 4 ... WHAM!! Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture ... Irish Rhapsody ... Susa's Klaxon March ... Theme from Shaft.

MacArthur's four bands, Silver, Blue, Concert and Stage, and the Orchestra are quite active this year. The Concert Band provides entertainment during sports events and at middle schools, and the Stage Band of twenty-two participates in several community-sponsored activities, as well as assemblies.

Promoting music education and appreciation is the chief purpose of the music department, as Mr. Kruzan and Mr. Werner work wonders with their batons and fund-raising sales.

Two large green eyes staring from a sky-blue face and a poured plaster guy greet the student at the door of the art room. Having started with the basic elements of design, the drawings, paintings, pottery and hand-crafted items made during the time spent show what can happen when met and conquered by Mac's creative student. Art Activities and Drawing and Painting help these students to develop a feeling for balance, color and unity in their compositions. The other areas of art, such as the cleaning of brushes, desks and floors from the debris of creativity are better left unmentioned, as they are often left undone, much to the disappointment of Mr. Spangler and the maintenance men.

Running Higher And Jumping Faster The Goal Of Every American Boy And Girl

The purpose of Physical Education is to strengthen the body and stamina of the MacArthur Student. Stamina especially is needed to last through some of the more vigorous courses. For guys, flag football, wrestling, track, and calisthenics fill the year both indoor and out. For girls, field hockey, modern dance, badminton, archery and volleyball. For both there are classes (not coed, darn it) in gymnastics, basketball, golf, and softball. Seniors can elect to take a bowling and swimming class, in which one semester is spent bowling and the other is spent swimming. And every fall and spring the physical fitness tests, which seem only to show how physically unfit the majority of Mac's students are, during P.E. hour. Amazing how physically fit they are leaping down the halls at 2:36.

The third annual Mock Wedding Receptions were held this year in Mac's Home Economics Department. The purpose of the Mock Wedding Reception is to give students actual experience in budgeting and organizing a wedding and reception.

The couple elected from the first hour class was David Ryan and Vicki Stewart. From the fifth hour class came Jim Riebock and Sharre Auton. Jill Grabowski and Paul Tossatti were the ones from sixth hour. The other students in the class made the guest list, baked the cake, and designed the table centerpiece and the decorations.

Mock Wedding Reception

1. What are you licking your chops at, Riebock?

5. Striking back for Womens Lib ... But will they want it?

The curtain opens and a lone figure dressed in black, speaking of the American female, steps to the raised platform centerstage. Suddenly, comments and bodies rise from the audience.

- "She's a leech!"
- "She's a lover!"
- "She's a woman!"
- "She's my mom?!"

And Womens Lib stops in its tracks.

So begins the story of women from the dawn of the man. Women, ranging from Eve, the first, to Kate, the shrew, to Nora, the individualist, have all played a role in the development of the American woman. Scenes, comments from and about, and, of course, the American MALES point of view form the basis of this running commentary on The American Dame.

The cast of is the largest on-stage crew ever used at MacArthur. It was also an experiment on the timing and ability of so many people to be in so many places at so many different times. Mr. Rueter's favorite comment seemed to be "take it back to ..." and "try it again". The casts' favorite comments were either "Not Again?!" or "You! You! You!", directed at those of the cast who failed to make either the appropriate entrance or utter the correct lines.

The set, a tin-foil masterpiece, consisted of a variety of ramps, stairs, and stools placed strategically on stage and in the area in front of the audience. These objects, plus a few props, became the scenes of great moments in history. The garden of Eden, Bunker Hill, the rolling prairie of the newly opening West, whatever was needed to recreate a particular time in history.

An unconventional play, an unconventional set and an unconventional method of presentation combined to make three unconventional evenings, the 27th, 28th and 29th of October.

You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown

How can a poor, dumb kid find happiness in the company of such characters as Lucy, Linus, Schroder, Peppermint Patty and Snoopy? It's not easy, but Charlie Brown succeeds in the musical "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown" presented by Miss Burlinson. Cast members were chosen from students from the choral groups.

The trials and tribulations of a blockhead with a losing team, a crazy dog, a friend (?) like Lucy, and a trail of broken kites following him take on a special flavor when watched with the eyes of a child. A child's viewpoint of the world is Charlie Brown's main concern, for, most of all, he's simply a kid who has a lot of problems.

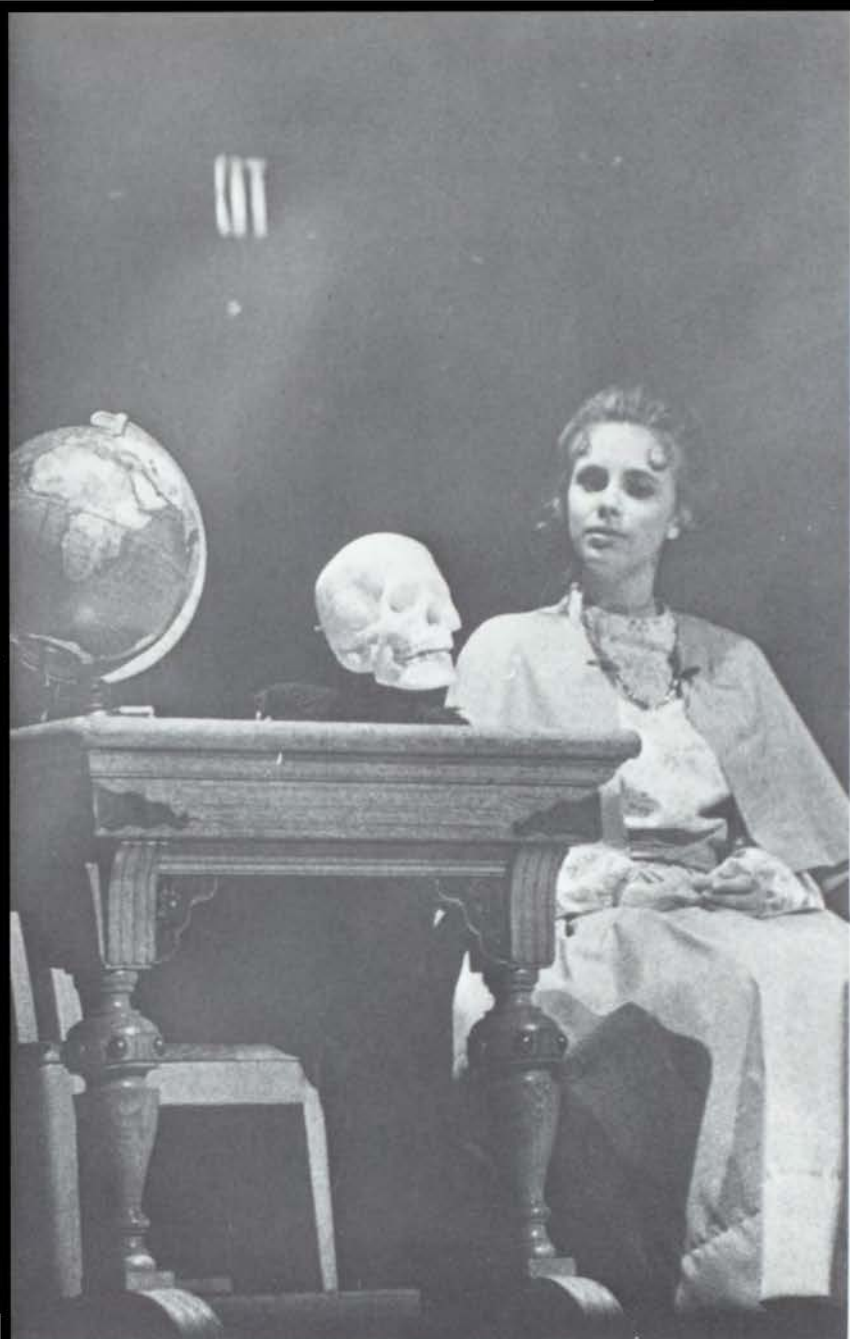

Happiness is "two kinds of ice cream, tying your shoe for the very first time" and watching Charlie Brown finally succeed in doing SOMETHING right!

- 3.
1. Lucy administering to her patients the remedies for all their problems.
- "Curse you . . . Red Baron!", screams Snoopy from his Sopwith Camel.

5. A Stranger bearing gifts: a doll, smoked glasses, a new world.
6. Dress rehearsal: practicing curtain calls.

The Miracle Worker

5. A blind, deaf and mute child's conception of the world is a black, soundless netherland filled with sharp corners, unexpected footfalls, strange thoughts and hands — familiar hands, probing hands, harsh hands and HER hands. Not her mother's, but The Stranger's: puzzling, reproving, healing, helping, opening a fresh bright world, explaining with her hands to a child who desperately needs someone to open her mind. Miss Doddek's production of "The Miracle Worker" on April 28th, 29th and 30th opened this world to the public.

Or at least on stage this is what is happening. Behind the lights frantic, stifled cries of "Where's my coat?" "But I need it NOW!" and "Am I on stage yet?" fly back and forth. These minor crises seem only to lend spice to the experiences that being part of a play brings. Other experiences, more serious in nature (a fall, a foot, a broken pitcher) bring fear and the (luckily) relief — the relief of knowing that it's not serious.

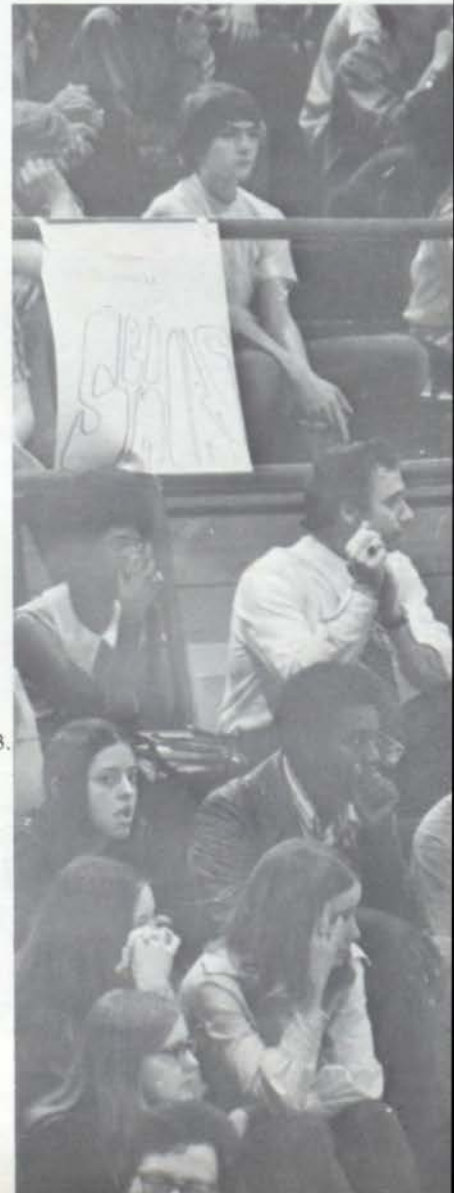

Eggs on the floor, spoons in the air, water all over everywhere: "The Miracle Worker."

4.

Dr. Irwin Ross: Hypnotist

5.

The Jeremiah People is a group of talented people who sing, joke, act and have a solid reason for being. The reason is that of bringing attention to the threats pollution is posing to today's society. The songs, jokes, and skits are merely a means to an end. Their reasoning: people will more likely listen to an interesting variety show (with a point) than a moralistic lecture. They're right. People will.

Hypnotism: what is it? No one knows for sure, but the effects it had on a group of senior volunteers had some literally rolling in the aisles. A sad movie, a happy movie, an X-rated film, a neighbor who smell, well, terrible, immobilised arms, a flame held under those same immobilised arms (no flinching!), a pair of arms locked around a constantly striding Dr. Ross, and a rock band with a way-out sound were seen by all, but appreciated only when one realises that "It's all in your mind."

A Joint Effort By Mac's Students And Faculty

3.

On Saturday, November 20, sports and animal lovers found they had something in common. It was the night of the Donkey Basketball Game. Celebrities from WAND and the Decatur Herald and Review battled against Mac's male faculty and only the animals won.

Mac's faculty also tested their basketball skills against those of the students in the annual Student-Faculty Game (after a decent interval used to recuperate from their previous venture into battle.) The unerring accuracy of both teams truly amazed, astounded and astonished the awed crowd: the ball unerringly aimed itself past reaching hands and flying feet to land exactly . . . out of bounds. Even if none of them ever make it to the "big time", everyone knows that an "E" for Effort is much more satisfying than an "A" for Accuracy. Right guys?

The Volleyball game played during half-time between the feminine faction of the teachers and students carried faithfully through to the spirit originated with the first half: comic chaos. MacArthur never had it so good. This game is a fine example of what can happen when students and teachers work together: a better understanding of both as people.

Clark Terry, jazz trumpeter from NBC's "Tonight Show", performed with MacArthur's bands in February. Mr. Terry's appearance is part of a program to introduce more people to more kinds of music. Last year trombonist Urbie Green was the guest performer.

Born in St. Louis to a large family, trumpets were definitely not a necessity, so Mr. Terry build his own horns from pipes, tubes, wires and anything else he could find. His first "real" trumpet was bought for him by neighbors during his high school years. Today Mr. Terry has "made it". He is a husband, father and grandfather, besides playing on the "Tonight Show" and for guest appearances.

ORGANIZATIONS

The Concert Band had a busy musical year in 1971-72. They performed for all home football games, part of the basketball games and the Regional Tournament. The Concert Band also performed at the Clark Terry Concert, The Band Show and Spring Festival. They also included three Junior High School assemblies in their busy schedule.

This year in the spring, the band received their new uniforms and wore them for several programs. We are looking forward to football season, so we can see them and the band can use the new field uniforms.

Presenting The Orchestra And Belleaires

There are five classes in the choral division this year: the Choraliars, the Concert Choir, the Belleaires, the Girls' Glee Club and the Mixed Chorus. These groups perform for MacArthur programs, for grade schools and for church and civic organizations in Decatur. The girls who are in Belleaires play the handbells and sing also.

This year we have given a fall concert, a Christmas Concert, a Broadway show ("You're a Good Man Charlie Brown") and a bell concert. All students in music — band, orchestra, and chorus — participated in the spring music festival. The Choraliars sang for Baccalaureate.

The Orchestra participated in the District Music Festival at Charleston, Illinois. Orchestra members from MacArthur, Mark Capshaw, Marsha Hughes, Julie Cox, and Sandy Leihser, were chosen for the All-State Orchestra that performed in February at Peoria. The All-State Orchestra was rated as the best ever.

Paula Keck, Sandy Tichenor, Doug Bishop, Janet Pullin, Linda Werner, Mike Werner, Mark Capshaw and Sandy Leihser were rated superior for their playing of Brandenburg Concerto # 5 in the April State Music Contest.

The MacArthur Orchestra gave Concerts in Elementary and Junior High Schools throughout Decatur. They have also played in the Christmas Concert and gave an outstanding Winter Concert. On May 11 the Orchestra played with the MacArthur Bands and Choir in the May Music Festival. On May 13 the Orchestra went to St. Louis to hear the St. Louis Symphony perform.

On And Off The Job Training

CWT

The Cooperative Work Training program provides on-the-job training for participating students. The program utilizes various businesses and industries of the community. The various occupations in which the students are engaged include the Decatur Herald and Review, restaurants, service stations, auto supplies, and florists. Highlight of the group's activity is the annual Employer Appreciation Banquet. The six CWT classes are advised by Mrs. Lawrence, Mr. Maurice, and Mr. Ragsdale.

DE

Distributive Education is a cooperative business education course for senior students who are interested in obtaining actual business experience in preparation for a business career after high school or college. School and business cooperate to combine classroom study and theory with supervised and coordinated business experience. It provides the senior student with the opportunity to receive valuable education and vocational skills in such fundamentals of business as retailing, merchandising, selling, distribution, and marketing.

Distributive Education includes many learning and social activities. This past year Mike Buechele and Mr. Curtis participated in the DECA National Leadership Conference attended by 4,000 DE students from the 50 states and held in Los Angeles, California. The fantastic experience included the many facets of the DE program and California's beautiful state level also. Mike Buechele, Ben Braden, Cheri Lenney, and Kay Feller were finalists in the State Leadership Conference competitive events.

OO

Office Occupations is for the students who are in the on-the-job training program. These girls work in a variety of jobs in offices such as banks, newspapers, lawyers, and school offices and in a variety of industries. Highlights of the group's activities are the State Conference, social activities, and Employer-Appreciation Banquet. These students come to MacArthur for the fourth, fifth, and sixth periods. The advisor for this group is Mrs. Ruthford.

Library Aides

The student assistants are a very important part of the school library. They work at the charging desk, write overdues, shelve books, reshelve magazines, and help process new books. Filing and making Bulletin boards may sometimes be done by the student assistants. Without the services of these students, the library could not function.

Nurses Aides

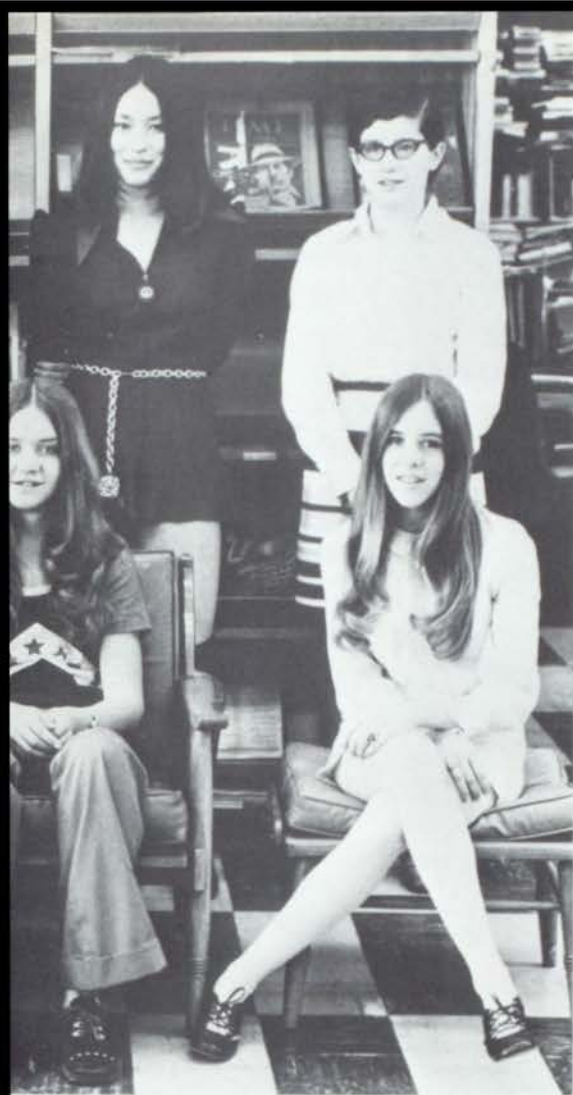

Joyce Minun and Lisa Scariano work second and fourth hours respectively in the nurse's office. The girls perform a great amount of clerical service which relieves the nurse for care of students and they also help care for linen and first aid supplies. Their aid has been of tremendous value especially in checking medical and dental records for freshmen and new students and in helping to organize the polio immunization permits. Their services are greatly appreciated.

Radio Club

The Radio Club was formed for the purpose of obtaining knowledge in the use of home radios. Once a week the meetings consist of experimentation and research for practical knowledge of radios along with the theory of the mechanics of operation.

Thespians

International Thespian Troup #2651 is in its second year in its reorganized state at Mac. Thespians give due recognition to actors and crew workers, who give of their time for the promotion, presentation and preservation of the theater arts. This year members have worked hard on "American Dame," "The Miracle Worker", "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," acting troupe, and several Theater productions.

Acting Troupe

Due to the amount of student interest shown in dramatics this year, a group was formed to allow experience in the area of Theatre. The Troupe structured and wrote their own improvisational play and presented it to various organizations as well as competing in the Illinois High School Association's State Dramatic Contest. Each year as seniors depart, new underclassmen will be added to the group and will structure an improvisational play around a topic of student interest.

"TV" Club

The TV club's main purposes are to provide the opportunity for students to plan and produce news programming similar to television broadcasting, to help students gain an awareness of the activities and events at MacArthur High School and report this news for video-taping, to give students experience as a news writer and reporter for television, and to work with a news team sharing duties and assignments. Each Monday morning the news director for the week collects ideas for news stories, events, and happenings around MacArthur. He then decides which events to cover and writes out individual news assignments. Each member receives his written assignment on Tuesday. Any special events to be taped during the week will be assigned to the appropriate team. Thursday morning all new stories are turned into the news director. Certain news shows are shown to the Radio-Television classes.

The Students That Really Get Involved

The Student Council officers this past year made their first plans for Homecoming, then set their minds to a few "Sock Hops". As we all know the Student-Faculty Basketball Game was a definite success. This year the student council sent two people to the State Student Council Convention. They also participated in the city wide SCUM Project and special assemblies such as the rock group Shalom and Dr. Ross, Hypnotist. They also sponsored buses for football and basketball games and donated money to cheerleaders.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society provides guides for freshman orientation and PTA visitation night. They also serve as tutors to students who need and want their help. Although National Honor Society is primarily a service organization, members can enjoy some social activities such as picnics, and field trips. To become a member of National Honor Society as a junior you must have a 4.5 grade average and seniors must have a 4.4 grade average. MacArthur High School National Honor Society chapter nominates 2 persons from their group who will compete for a scholarship of $1,000. This is done by the National Honor Society in cooperation with the National Association of Secondary School Principals and 3 companies. These groups provide two-hundred $1,000 Scholarships.

Human Relations

The main objective of the human relation committee is to solve any problems that might arise between students within the school. Goals of the committee include the formation of positive programs geared toward the improving of student-teacher relationship.

Projector Club

The projectors club deliver and pick up the projectors that the teachers request. Besides the usual running of AVA equipment in the AVA room, these students run the projectors in the auditorium if it is requested of them. The school really appreciates the work these students do because if they were not there to get the projectors do you realize all the running to the AVA room there would be?

Impressions Of AFS Students

"Don't believe all that you've read, especially about America," — That's my philosophy. We hear of race riots, murders, hijacks, drugs, permissiveness, promiscuity, but never of curfews for minors, drinking ages of twenty-one and the strict rules enforced in schools. America is not all cities of concrete and a fast pace that no-one can keep up. It's not all modern sky-skrapers and jumbo jets. Look at the Armish people! I was intrigued to find a group of people, living as they did, one hundred years ago, and that American teenagers are not unlike Rhodesian young people.

The only way to discover what a country and its people are like, is to go and see for oneself. This is why I would like to thank everyone who made it possible for me to be here for this year. I've had a great time!"

"When I was in Chile and found out I was coming to the United States, many things crossed my mind. I thought mostly about the youth here and what they would be like. Well now I am here and there is something about them that is unique. They are much freer here than Chile. They have more chances to get good paying jobs, and can live much better. The parents don't have set hours or times and this is bad for family life. In Chile the parents' jobs don't have set hours or times and this is bad for family life. I don't know if I just got lucky, or if every family here is the same, but my American family is wonderful to me. The people have much more opportunities for a higher standard of living. I have been here for three months so far and haven't seen anything that horrible. The poverty I see every day of my life in Chile is much worse than any I know of here. We, the youth of Chile have more of a chance to live better than our parents.

The high school is very different. The students here have it quite easy. They have only six hours for subjects and have all the same ones every day. In my school I study twelve or fifteen! I like the idea of not having to wear a uniform especially being able to wear pants to school.

The food is different, but there is really no way to describe it except to say that here I find myself pouring on the salt. The food is so bland!

The climate is much more than I imagined. It is funny getting used to the idea that January through March is Winter, and June through August is Summer. I was so surprised to find no earthquakes and people who have never experienced one. I kind of miss them. The snow is beautiful but it's too cold to enjoy over such a long period of time as three months. I like the parks here because they have much scenery and the lakes are gorgeous. I like to sit and think at the lake.

The organization of the people is much stiffer here, and they seem to have a set place. In my country, the organization is not so well planned.

For me, Decatur and the United States is wonderful and I really feel welcome. I'm happy to have the experience of living here for six months as an American and I thank everyone who helped me get here and to make my stay as great as it is."

AFS In Action

The AFS this year has been a very hard-working group of people. They have been cooperative and put forth their best in the club and also in welcoming our foreign exchange students. It has been rewarding and fun to have these students and they have added a lot to our club and activities. This year's AFS carnival has been the most successful yet and the most fun. There have been various other money-raising projects such as the Big Mac Chain, selling Mac stickers, and the International Carnival. I would like to thank the club for their support and the officers for their unending help. A special thanks to all of our exchange students for sharing a little of their country and their self to us at Mac.

"Hi! I'm Anne, ICYE exchange student from Norway 71-72. Maybe you see me running through the halls sometimes, on my way to always another class.

Some kids think that exchange students are supposed to be a little different from others because they come from a foreign country. But in most cases, that statement proves to be wrong. I guess I'm as thrilled as you guys when I get an A on a test, or realize that I don't have any homework. And how happy we ALL are on Friday afternoon thinking about about wonderful Saturday mornings — Whappi!

The people I meet wonder what I'm like, my interests and if I love or hate hamburgers and fries. (I'll tell you right now I love them!)

For about nine of my nineteen years I've enjoyed reading. Sometimes I read doing homework, but I'm crazy about exciting stories, things you spend time on when you want to relax all by yourself and still have fun.

Once in a while I pick up the guitar. I like ballads and folksongs (ya even sentimental love songs!) Classic as well as rock is ok too. When I'm in the right mood.

At seven o'clock in the morning I turn on the radio, a beautiful way to get yourself out of bed. (If you haven't try it, you'll like it!) WLS is good to have when you're upset, sad or whatever. When you get your favorite melody, all the problems of the day just leave immediately and don't dare come back for awhile.

When I feel like it, or maybe I should say, feel the poetic spirit, it happens I take pen in hand to express myself. It's a good advice to take. If you ever feel down or furious, or happy: Write it down! You'll feel better afterwards.

As a matter of fact, I enjoy school after all, I indeed like it SO MUCH that I plan to stay in school until I'm sixty, hopefully as a teacher. Well, bye now, take care, good luck next year!"

MacArthur High School made a giant effort to once again reach the final, and most prized goal: that of running in the State Cross Country Meet. However, because of the delay in the starting of training and meeting their scheduled commitments, the MacArthur Harriers lost their first three meets. The Harriers then came back to place first in the City Varsity Jamboree and in the MacArthur Invitational for all Macon County Schools. Congratulations for a fine season.

1971-1972 Varsity Basketball Team

This year's varsity basketball team improved vastly over last year's 6-18 record with a 13-13 record. Highlights of the season were the 1st place in the Edwardsville consolation bracket and victories over Springfield Southeast and Springfield Lanphier. Tom Taylor led the team scoring with a 13.5 percentage. Mark Matheson won the Most Valuable Player award. Kent Phillips was named Honorary Captain and Jerry Tschantz won the Sweat and Sacrifice award. Tim Littrell set a new school free throw percentage record with a .810 percentage.

1. Tom Taylor goes up for two.
3. The crowd goes wild after the 61-59 victory over Stephen Decatur.
4. Ted Holly and Cary Turner (mgrs.), Jerry Tschantz, Mark Matheson, Tom Doxsie, Elgin Hawthorne, Jack Harris, Vincent Barnett, Tim Littrell, Tim Helm, Tom Taylor, Larry Estell, Kent Phillips.

The MacArthur freshman basketball team had a good season winning thirteen of their 19 games. They showed great teamwork and came out ahead in some close games. At the end of their season they played in the Springfield Tourney and came out winning second place. This was the first time that any Decatur team had gone that far. With their size and ability, the team shows great potential for their coming years.

With the coaching of Coach Steinkoenig and Coach Dell, the sophomores ended up the 1971-1972 season with a 7-14 record. A first place finish in the Stephen Decatur Holiday Tournament was the highlight of the season and showed that MacArthur has the potential to become the strength of the city in the future.

4. MacArthur's baseball record for the past few years has been nothing short of spectacular. Just this year Mac's baseball team captured the District and Conference titles with a record of 15 wins and only one loss. The team was called "a seventh inning team" because in three consecutive games they rallied in the bottom of the seventh inning to pull out another victory. After beating Macon (second in state in '71), MacArthur was downed by Lincoln in the Regional final. Their seventh inning rally never came, though they tried hard to make it. But with a Freshman-Sophomore record of 7-2, it looks as if Mac's dominance will continue in baseball.

Tennis

This year's Varsity Tennis team proved to be just as successful as in the past. The season was highlighted by the First Place finish in District, where Brian Waktkins and Scott Fitch upset the No. 1 seat to qualify for state-wide competition. Other state qualifiers were: Larry Drenan, Second in Singles; David Dickinson and Eric Hoft, First in Doubles. Dave and Eric then went on to win the Conference Doubles title.

Golf

Another year and another winning team, '72 is Mac's year for going great. The varsity team standing is 9-3 on dual and triangular meets. Varsity Lettermen were: Kent Sands, Kevin Thom, Jeff Shade, John Lanman, Dan Bryant, Dave Thomas and Doug Raver. The Freshman-Sophomore team's record of 7-2 is a strong sign that this winning season will last through next year's team.

This year's MacArthur freshman have upheld their reputation, as in the past years, in activities and athletics. The class of '75 has shown that MacArthur will have many promising athletes for years to come. The success of the Frosh-Soph dance and their part in Big Mac Day has supplied plenty of money for their treasury. The Freshman Class will assure MacArthur of having plenty of activities and enthusiasm for the next three years.

Up, up and away went the sophomores with another fun-filled year at Big Mac. They could be seen at any time and any place filling the air with excitement, spirit and laughter. Heroic sports with future "greats", talented young minds and an awareness of life-seems-logical definitions make up the sophomore class of '71-'72.

"Colour My World" is the theme for the Junior-Senior Prom this year. The Class of '73 is sponsoring prom along with Stephen Decatur. The appearance of Dr. Irwin Ross, a famous Chicago hypnotist, is the main fund raising project. If all goes well, the juniors plan to donate some proceeds from it to A.F.S. club.

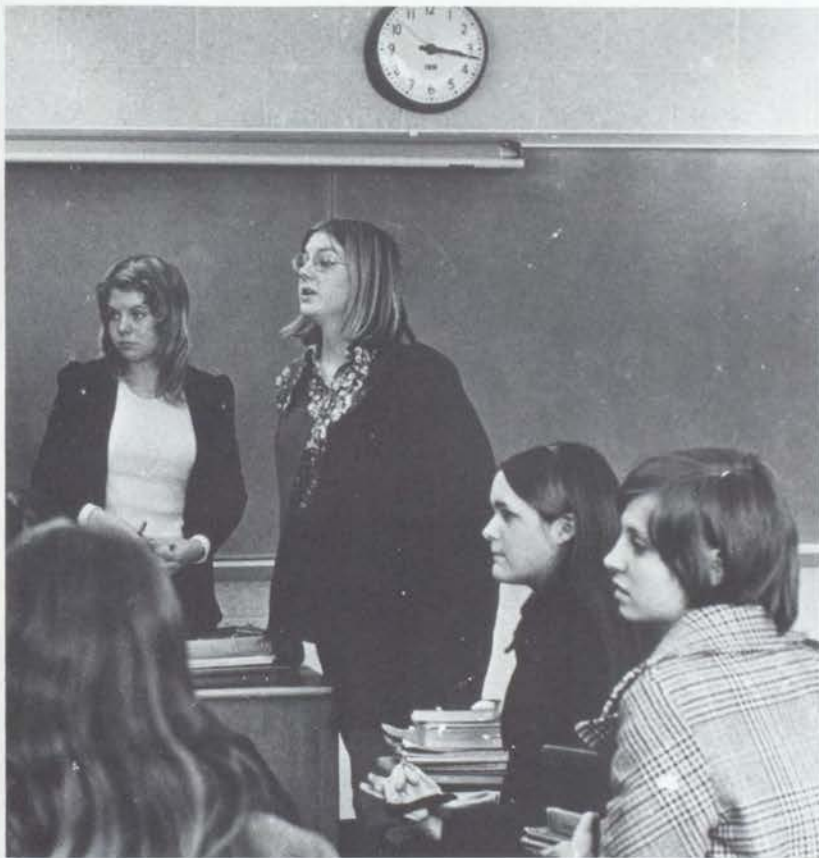

1. President Eric Burmeister conducts one of the many junior class council meetings.

2. Interested junior class council members listen for future projects.

3. Joy Tallman keeps quiet while Marcia Morey speaks out!

4. "... waiting for their rider's return ..."

5. Junior advisor, Mr. Downey, is included in the discussion.

"More spirit than you have ever seen" moves the Seniors through their last year in Super-Senior fashion! The Senior Class Council worked long and hard to raise money for an inlaid emblem as a permanent reminder of the "Spirit of '72". Members of the Senior Class led others in nearly every area of school life, and made their last year the crowning touch to the best four years of their lives. Good luck to the Seniors as they leave us, and here's hoping they can remain as successful as they have been in 1972!

2

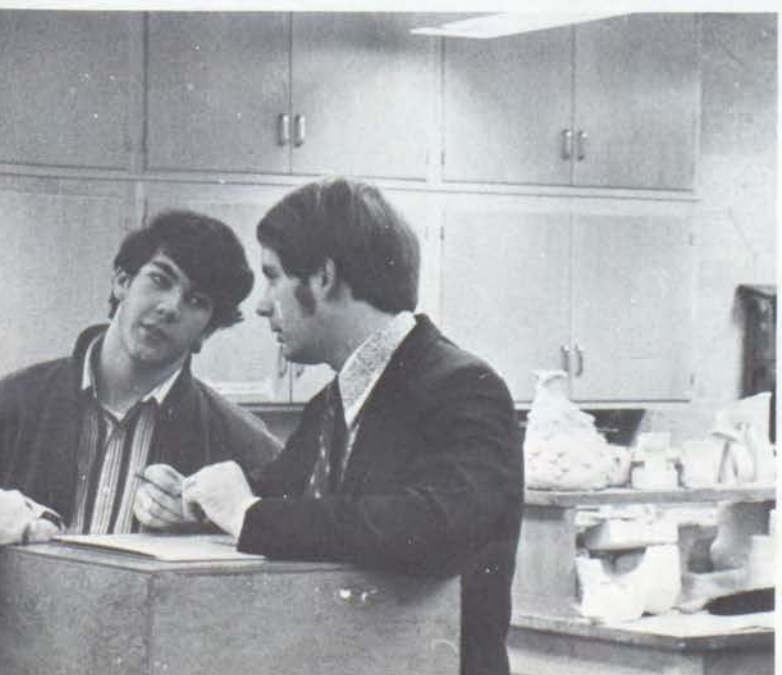

1. Senior officers David Ryan, Joy Moore, Marti Bridges, and Jim Riebock discuss senior activities at a meeting with the council.
2. Sorting out ideas for Senior Class Day — soap operas, commercials or Vaudeville??
3. Fifteen minutes ago the stands were packed and the field was full of action. Time passes so fast.
4. "I think we should try something different!"
5. This careful planning won the Spirit Stick!!"

In Memoriam
 Phillip Snearly

Stretching out my wings of flight —
Chasing the winds across the sky —
Soaring along the silent space —
Above the clouds
Across the blue
Here at last!
The peace of mind.

A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To Graduation

1. John Raber, Nancy Jergens, and Mark Taylor drinking their milk like good little kids — and hating every minute of it.
2. Bobby socks, pigtails, smiles and legs make a chorus line that's truly unforgettable.
3. Splitting them up at the junior high Spring Dance — there's a vamp in every crowd.
4. Host Larry Drenan interviewing Carol McCoy "And what do you want to be when you grow up?"
5. Miss Senior Sexpot: Twoey Zenacher.

4.

Senior Class Day, tracing Mac's illustrious(?) seniors through the years 1954-1972, showed them and their acts of derring-do, er, doing-der, er, whatever they did, by a series of skits.

A chorus line of sexy seniors snakes to the front, the lights dim and . . . come up on 24 little girls singing and dancing their little hearts out with "Let us entertain you, let us see you smile!" The music changes and the 1972 Senior Sexpot is announced: Miss(?) Twoey(?) Zenacher(?) bumping and grinding her way across the stage taking it all off and . . . it's a guy. The lights dim and it's Kindergarten time. Remember milk time (pulling pigtails and bumping heads) and nap time "on TOP of the rug, kids"? Kids aren't so dumb. Speaking of kids, don't they say the darnest things? Like Carol McCoy wanting 4 kids but no husband when she grows up? Or Kent Sands wanting to be doctor when he grows up? (Enough said as to the reasons why). Then, the big step . . . to junior high and (fanfare) The Spring Dance! He just wanted to hold her hand? Don't believe it!

Hitting the highlights of the years at Mac — tickets to the elevator, directions to the — well, you KNOW, paying tribute to "everyone loves him" Lyle K., jamming down the aisle, or Paul Tosetti, candidate for just about anything — the '72 seniors saved the best for last: medley of the best of Carole King and 'It's A Long, Long Road' sung by Peggy Bechtold and Jody Tanner.

And it has been a long, long road — four years of it. Goodbye, good luck.

Wake-up it's Sunday
church for some sleep for other's another day of nothing important waiting to be done except maybe the homework that wasn't done Friday or Saturday or oh well it will be done by Monday morning which sad to say comes with alarming regularity precisely after Sunday night.

Cadet Photographers

We need a picture right away!
 When exactly?
 Today?
 OK. What of?
 A special shot of something rare.
 Alright already — What exactly?
 Well, it's sort of a — no, it's more like — it's — I can't explain it. Take whatever looks good to you.
 Why didn't you just say that in the first place? we don't want to confuse the issue?

The editors of the 1972 Cadet entered the year as an almost inexperienced staff. Approximately two-thirds of the staff was composed of seniors, a fourth juniors, and the remaining sophomores. A two-week journalism workshop at Ball State University, in Muncie, Indiana, was held from August 1-12. Students from all parts of the country were enrolled in the course, including the ~~Cadet~~ co-editors-in-chief, Vicki Dexter and Kathi McClugage. They applied ~~the~~ the knowledge learned from their ~~intense~~ study of design, copy, and special effects in instructing their staff of the methods used in producing a new and different book. Professional as well as amateur photography highlighted each two-page spread. A mosaic design was used through the entire book. ~~And most important of all,~~ The theme and body copy ~~was~~ carefully deliberated to be ~~as~~ uniform, informative, and interesting ~~as possible.~~
